The trans-actions were small, and the fluctuations made within the narrowest range possible, except in a few of the specialties, which were subject to special influences. There was a small attend-ance at the board, and many brokers left town this afternoon, to remain away over the holiday. which had some effect in restricting trading. A rumor was circulated of a probable disruption of the trunk-line pool, but is was quickly contradicted and did but little damage, and the addicted and did but little damage. vices from Chicago were uniformly bearish, but received no attention. The improved feeling on the Northern Pacifics made those stocks the leaders of the market to-day, though the transactions in them were comparatively small and very little progress was made in the upward direction. The coal stocks were very much less prominent than they have been of late, but St. Paul, Western Union and Union Pacific were more active, though presenting the same lack of feature as the general list. Among the specialties there were a few marked movements, and Lake Erie & Western advanced ments, and Lake Erie & Western advanced another fraction, while Peoria, Decatur & Evansville made better progress. The feature of the day, however, was the strength in Big Four, which has been entirely neglected of late, but to-day, on good inside buying, advanced over a point, with very light transactions. Outside of the few stocks mentioned, there was not a stock on the list which fluctu-ated over a range of more than } per cent. First prices were irregular, with advances in a majority, with a moderate business, but the movements in the early dealings were quite irregular, with no special tendency until near noon, when prices rose slightly. The dullness became intense after that time, and a generally heavy tone marked the limited transactions. There was some little improvement in the last half hour, but it was short-lived, and the market finally closed dull and steady at in-The final changes are generally for fractional amounts only, and declines are in a majority,

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Wheat kept the crowd guessing to-day, or rather, one-half the trade kept the other half chasing after them. There was no decided change in the information from the Northwest or from abroad. Cables gave British markets easier on the whole, while closing cables represented English country markets as dearer and the weather none too favorable. A great quantity of "long" wheat was on the market here. The early dispatches from the Northwest, saying that wheat was out of danger, were upset by letters from exporters now in the Devil's lake country, saying that the worst features of the frost damage had not been exaggerated. The "bear" feeling was quite strong early, but when any "short interest was created and a few buying orders came n, there was a sudden change, the bulge showing that the "shorts" felt less safety than the "longs." In this market Hutchinson sold most of the session. Even with his filling up of the erowd there was no serious break. The one-cent gap remained between September and De-cember. September sold at 94c, down to 92kc, up to 93c or better, then off to 92kc, the bottom for the day, and then bulged le to 93kc; December sold at 92 to, down to 92c, and after a bulge down to 91 to, again bulged to 92 to, but weak-ened toward the close. After all the efforts to break wheat, and a range of about 1to for the session, the price of December closed at 92to, to under last night and to over the bottom price of the day. There was a range of about le in corn with the close fractionally lower than yesterday. September started to higher at 45to, and sold at 45to, from which it broke to 44to, and rallied to 45c at the close. The strength early was attributed to the frost in the Northwest, and was helped by the shipping demand. Hutchinson became a seller later, and prices went down quite sharply. Oats were active, and those who controlled prices for the month made it inter-esting for the "shorts." August sold on the squeeze up to 27e, and the price dropped to 25to. Belated "shorts," however, again put the price to 26to at the close. September closed at 24to.

All futures were a trifle higher. There were no special features to the provision market. The opening was steady at about last night's close, after which there was a slight decline, in sympathy with the grain market. Subsequently there was a gradual improvement, and the close was at the best prices of the day, showing a small advance all around as compared with the last figures of yesterday. The leading futures ranged as follows:

DUN & CO.'S REVIEW.

Contradictory Crop Statements-Speculation in Exportable Products.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.-R. 4. Dun & Co.'s

weekly review reports: Crop reports have been exceedingly contradictory and confusing. Dispatches by the score are published asserting that frosts have cut down the yield of spring wheat greatly, especially in Dakota and Minnesota, but these reports are denied by other telegrams. Such confusing accounts from all quarters have helped very active speculation, with sales of 93,000,000 bushels here, and a net decline in price of only half a cent for the week. These facts lead to the suspicion that gloomy reports are being used to unload speculative burdens, that the actual outcome will not much below previous estimates. Corn is a fraction lower, with sales of 9,000. 000 bushels, and oats 5 cents higher, with some activity. In provisions there has been active speculation, an advance and a reaction. Hogs remain 10 cents higher. Oil has risen 3 cents, and leather and hides are half a cent higher. Tin has weakened, but copper is stronger, and lead has been hoisted half a cent. Coffee has sold largely for speculation, 267,000 bags at New York, but prices halt and the distribution slackens. Sugar is unchanged, with a bet-ter but not full demand for refined. An active trade and stronger prices are noted in hops. The dry goods market has been active and even buoyant, with print cloths stiff at 4 cents, but some descriptions of brown sheetings are weak, and the market for woolens is still irregular and uncertain. Speculation has raised the price of cotton 41 cents per 100 pounds, with sales of 261,000 bales at New York in spite of favorable crop advices. It is hardly necessary to say that this speculative activity, particularly in exportable products, is not a very healthy sign. If crops are really poor, business must suffer in consequence, and if prices are merely inflated without reason, the inevitable reaction Speculation in stocks has been moderately active and strong. The market does not broaden, nor is the public helping. The Treasury has taken in $5,000,000 more than it has paid out this week, but supplies of money are abundant here, and there are no reports of serious pressure anywhere. At some points collections are fairly good, but a much greater number of reports note more than usual tardiness for the season, and complaints are general. Yet there is a noticeable increase in confidence as to the immediate future of business in almost every quarter from which reports are received, and banking returns show a continued increase in exchanges. The business failures number 226, as compared with a total of 214 last week, and 219 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 199. In August the failures number 972, against 777 last

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. Trade Rather Quiet-Prices Firm and Unchanged. INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 31. It being the last day of the month and the weather threatening rain, it was rather quiet today in busines circles. This is not unusual, however, under the circumstances named. The most chronic growler now admits that the prospects for a good fall trade, aside from it being the year for the election of a President, could not well be better. In prices, to-day, there were but few changes. Sugars move up another t of a cent and coffees are in strong position. In fact all staple articles in the grocery line are meeting with good distribution at steady and firm prices. Druggists are having a good trade, and on many articles there is an advancing tendency in price. Iron dealers report trade good and prices upward in tendency. Hardware men are busy. Dealers in tinners' supplies report prices firm and a good business in progress. The seed market is active at the revised quotations of Thursday, and firmness is a characteristic in prices. The produce markets are moving along in much the same rut of several days past. Peaches are hardly as plenty, consequently prices are a shade stronger. Apples and pears are in abundant supply and selling at about the buyer's figures. Poultry rules weak on large receipts and a slackened demand East. Eggs firm; the receipts about equaling the demand. Butter more plenty, but a choice article will bring our dest quotations. The hide market drags along in much the same trail of several months past, and in the future there is nothing promis-

The market continues without new feature. Bidding on 'Change shows that buyers are somewhat at sea as regards the market, but exhibit more confidence on futures. Prices of wheat ruled about the same as on Thursday. Corn was lower. Oats steady and unchanged. Track

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Prevented Controlled and Cured

In the Sugar of Milk, which is the base of Lactated Food, bringing it to close resemblance to mother's milk, we have a substance which to mother's milk, we have a substance which has the property of overcoming all irritation of the stomach and bowels, and of correcting the character of the secretions. It has been the positive means of saving many lives, having been successful in curing hundreds of cases of cholera infantum, where other prepared foods fatied. Lactated Food is a sure preventive of this dread disease, and babies living upon it are safe from cholera infantum and other summer bowel troubles.

BY USING LACTATED

FOOD T. C. WILLIAMS, M. D., 1840 Lexington Ave., N. Y., writes: "I have tried your Lactated Food in the case of my own child, a girl five months old, who was selzed with a most severe attack of cholera infantum. For two days her diarrhesa and vomit were almost as bad as they could be, and she was unable to retain any food I tried your food without much hope and it literally acted like magic. She retained it from the first, her passages began to improve immediately, and from the low, sunken appearance and utter prostration which this disease so rapidly
